

Santa Cruz Neurofeedback Center

Licensed psychotherapist wanted (MFT, LCSW, PsyD, or clinical PhD) to provide part-time neurofeedback and psychotherapy at the Santa Cruz Neurofeedback Center.

Our ideal candidate would possess most or all of the following qualifications:

- A basic understanding of biofeedback and neurofeedback
- BCIA certification, or willingness to become certified within 12 months
- A mindfulness-based orientation
- A background in somatic psychotherapy: Hakomi, EMDR, Somatic Experiencing, Sensorimotor, or similar training.
- Experience working with clients with PTSD, ADHD, ASD, anxiety and depression.
- A deep understanding of working with trauma, addiction and attachment issues
- Comfort and experience working with children ages 5 and older, as well as adults of all ages
- A strong aptitude for science
- A high level of comfort working with Windows, including the ability to troubleshoot common hardware and software issues
- Comfort and skill in speaking with insurance companies, to maximize the possibility of out-of network reimbursement for our clients
- A collaborative attitude and comfort working in a team environment
- The ability to supervise a support staff

This position is part-time, with the possibility of expanding into full-time. Previous training in neurofeedback is strongly preferred, but on-the job training is possible.
